A round table discussion of current challenges and new strategies for improving the delivery of home support services.

Panelists

SUZANNE CAMPBELL, Director of Community and Residential Care, Prince George, Northern Health Authority

ROSEMARY CARAHAM, Care Management Leader Powell River, Vancouver Health Authority

JOANNA KING, Home Support Education Lead, Fraser Health Authority

JOHN SLOAN, geriatric physician, Home Vive (a VCH program for home-bound frail elderly)

Moderator: MARCY COHEN, CCPA.

Panelists will discuss questions such as:

Does the delivery model of home support need to change as clients become frailer and have more complex needs?

Are there enough home services for those with more moderate needs?

How can we ensure clients have consistent workers over time?

What additional training and support do community health workers need to provide quality care to their increasingly diverse and complex caseload?

How can the home support system focus more on preventative and restorative care?

How can community health workers be better integrated with other services like home nursing and primary physicians care?
